If a cosmetic tooth replacement is desired during this process, a temporary partial denture can be constructed ahead of time and delivered at the same appointment that the tooth is removed.

This is typically only recommended when the patient is concerned about the appearance of their smile because an upper or lower front tooth requires extraction. The temporary partial denture is composed of pink plastic for support and rigidity, as well as thin metal wires for retention.